DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-15, a method for processing a thermoplastic polymeric material.

Group II, claim(s) 16-17, an extrusion die.

Group III, claim(s) 18-19, a composition of thermoplastic polymeric material.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature common to Groups I-III is the invention related to processing a thermoplastic polymeric material which comprises extrusion of molten polymer material through a die set. This cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2, because the element is known in the prior art.

Kurtz et al. (US 5008056 A) disclose a process related to an extrusion process and, more particularly, to a process for extruding highly filled polymeric compositions for jacketing insulation used in wire and cable products and which exhibit die drool during extrusion (column 1, lines 10-14). Kurtz et al. go on to teach a process for reducing die drool during extrusion of highly filled polymeric resins for production of jacketing insulation for wire and cable by incorporating into the surface of the die in contact with said resin a compound which decreases the adhesiveness between the polymeric resin and the die surface, said compound being employed in an amount sufficient to reduce die drool (abstract).

Accordingly, the special technical feature linking the three inventions does not provide a contribution over the prior art, and no single general inventive concept exists. Therefore, restriction is appropriate.

3. No attorney information was found, thus an election was not made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Conclusion

It is further suggested that applicant review the claims to ensure that they are in proper multiple dependent format (i.e. it is noted that a multiple dependent claim should not depend from another multiple dependent claim).
